Americanism is experiencing a renewed spotlight, especially as we approach the 250th anniversary of our great nation. At its core, Americanism promotes respect for and allegiance to the traditional values that define the United States. It also honors our soldiers and their families who have fought, sacrificed, and in many cases given their lives to secure our freedom.

Americanism is not a single idea, but a set of complex principles that led to prosperity and established America as the greatest nation in the world. The Maryland Federation of Republican Women (MFRW) has embraced a philosophy of education to deepen our members' understanding of and commitment to foundational American concepts, including the Constitution, the Declaration of Independence, our form of government, and economic principles such as capitalism.

We are the generation that must pass these principles down to our children and grandchildren so they are not indoctrinated into anti American views. Ladies and Patriots together we can do this, education is our greatest weapon in our fight for our country.

Please explore the tabs that follow to learn more about America. We have also launched an "Americanism" program on the MFRW Facebook page, Maryland Federation of Republican Women.

God bless America!
